A lways ready to write at the first stroke without shaking.

That is a vital point which is lacking in ordinary fountain pens. You can readily understand how this is made possible in a Moore when we explain that the pen when not in use lies submerged in ink which keeps it moist and prepared for instant writing, positively eliminating the necessity of shaking.

But that is not all of its strong features. The Moore can be carried in any position without the least fear of leaking. Has a large ink capacity. Always writes freely and evenly, and is easily filled.

Every Moore Non-Leokable Fountoin Pen carries with it the most unconditional guarantee.

BE SURE IT'S A MOORE.

CLASS HISTORIES

The Junior Pear

HE existence of the class of 1912 began in September 1908, when, for the first time, eighty-six of us "preps" meekly walked to chapel. Here, in front, we encountered the "old fellows", shaking hands and laughing at one another's tales. But we, not daring to incur the wrath of some Senior by brushing past him, skirted the groups of men here and there and huddled ourselves into the back seats of the old Chapel. Here it was, also, that we heard of "Pap" Eaton and Room 4, where we went to make out our schedules.

As the fall term progressed, our aequaintances increased. At length came the Exeter game, in which we defeated our new rival (new to us though old to the school) by the score of 12 to 0. That same night we met at Chaps at a quarter past seven and wore pajamas as Hubbard, the cheer leader, had announced at the game we were to do. After parading around the streets, the school marched to the bonfire, where the "old fellows" amused themselves by necessitating the withdrawal of a few of us "preps" to our rooms, minus our pajamas.

During the winter term we watched Captain Snell and the basketball team complete the schedule of games without a single defeat. Likewise, Clyde Martin and the hockey team afforded us amusement on the half holidays. Consequently between these two sports and "Doe" Page, who taught us how to break our necks in the "gym", and to use that invaluable iodine—the "Jack for all troubles"— the Easter vacation soon arrived.

The spring term was at hand—the last part of our "prep" year. As the days rushed by, we were brought near to the day of the Andover-Exeter track meet, when Captain Hopwood with his team defeated Exeter. We celebrated our second victory. A week later we looked for more of Exeter's blood—the baseball game. But the fates were opposed to "Cap" Burdette. The defeat made us disconsolate for a few days, after which we returned home, no longer

"preps" but the future Junior Middlers.

Let us try now to recall the names of those men still in school who entered Andover with us in 1908. We find them to be "Randy" Bartlett, Angus Black, E. M. Dickinson, "Carl" French, "Dick" Gurley, "Roge" Keeline, "Peet" Kelly, "Charley" La Tour, L. Lawrason, "Pinkos" Lord, "Fred" Manning, F. P. Markey, "Doug" Milne, P. G. Morrison, R. G. Newcomb, H. H. Nute, T. J. O'Sullivan, Jr., Knight Owen, A. Perez, "Jimmy" Selden, "Bill" Sheldon, F. W. Smith, "Vit" Stone, Clyde Timbie, "Gus" Wells, "Em" Williams, and C. E. Van Brocklin.

Our recollections of that past year, if I may speak for all, are and always will be, amongst the pleasantest memories of any year at Andover, although we were but "preps."

A. L. WILLIAMS

Junior Middle Pear

T was with glad, though somewhat homesick, hearts that 1912 returned to old Andover hill in the fall of her second year. Though it was hard to get down to work again, we comforted ourselves with the fact that we were no longer preps", and took not a little pleasure in seeing 1913 hazed.

Prospects for football this year were not particularly bright with only Captain Large and one other veteran back, and our faithful coach of the year before up at Dartmouth. As usual, Andover demonstrated her old fighting spirit, and Coach Hawley was thereby able to send an eleven up to Exeter which brought back a victory of 3 to 0. Captainelect D. T. Rogers and C. E. Van Brocklin represented the class on

Owing to the very mild winter which followed, we had no ice, and so were unable to organize a hockey team. The musical clubs and basketball five, however, furnished us ample amusement. C. F. La Tour, B. A. Tompkins, A. L. Williams, F. J. Manning, and K. B. Owen, represented 1912 on the former, while B. II. Hay was a member of the basketball team under Captain H. D. Swihart. During the term a great many of us went down to the B. A. A. meet in Boston to see the relay team run against Exeter. Nearly all the large preparatory schools in New England were represented at this meet, which Exeter easily won, though she had to put up a hard fight in the relay race. These events, under the supervision of Dr. Page, helped to vary the monotony of the long winter's drudgery in the gymnasium, and from the heavy assignments in studies which are always made at this season.

On the Phillipian Board, R. G. Hav, K. Douglas, and H. H. Nute represented the class, and on the Student Council we had B. A.

Tompkins and C. W. French.

On the seventh day of April, after a brief rest, we returned to school to find the baseball team hard at work under Coach Clough and Captain E. U. Burdette. Our attention was first turned, however, to the track team, which was to meet Exeter the following month. On Decoration Day we all went up to Exeter hoping for a victory, but we were disappointed, our team being defeated by a squad of Exeter stars. E. J. Rosener and A. B. Tilton represented 1912. Naturally our hopes were now turned to baseball, and though the class was not represented on the team, we were all very anxious for a victory, which came after a fine eleven-inning game with the score of 5 to 4. This was one of the best games of baseball we had ever seen, and more than recompensed for our track misfortune.

Just prior to this great event our attention was attracted by the Means Prize Speaking contest, which was held in the Chapel. The class was represented by F. W. Smith.

We now turned our attention to the final examinations, having spent a wonderful year and grown much in affection for the old school on the hill.

Middle Pear

ITH fewer old members, 'tis true, but with that same spirit which has always been uppermost, the class of 1912 returned to Andover September 15th, 1911. The poor "preps" were not molested as much as usual, and every one was soon settled down to the more serious tasks of school life.

At Captain Rogers' call, an exceedingly large squad reported for football, from which an excellent team was soon developed by Mr. Lillard. The team's record during the preliminary season was, indeed, one to be proud of, for it experienced but one defeat. When the Exonians came down on November 4th, determined to wipe the blue from the field, they were easily overcome by the pleasing score: 21 to 0. 1912 was well represented on the team by Captain Rogers, Mahan, Brann, Lahr, Forsyth, Harlow, Hay, Webster, and Sawyer. 1911 won the class football series, while 1912 led in soccer. Term examinations now loomed up before us, making us forget athletics and sit up nights copying back notes.

It seemed rather hard to get down to work after the holidays, but the thought of Doc's gym classes soon brought us to earth once more with a bump; moreover, hockey, basketball, and track were in full swing before long, and with these to claim our attention, the term was rapidly gliding by. Mr. O'Brien and Captain Rogers succeeded in producing a very creditable hockey team which completed most of the scheduled games despite the prevailing weather conditions. Captain Rogers, Forsyth, Warner, Bullivant, Fletcher, and Webster were 1912 men. In basketball much praise is due Captain Hay and Mr. Tower, for with almost an entirely new string of men from which to choose, they developed a very fast team. Notwithstanding the fact that for the most part the opposing teams were unusually hard fighters, it won the majority of its games. Captain Hay, Chatterton, Washburn, and Brann were 1912's representatives. In the meantime the class teams were hotly contesting for their numerals which were finally won by 1913. All winter long the track squad worked faithfully on the board track and several meets were held. The results of the B. A. A. meet were not so encouraging; however the experience thus gained was worth a great deal.

The Junior "Prom," 1912's first great social event, took place on the evening of February 21st, and, looked at from any view, no better outcome could have been wished for. The musical clubs gave several entertainments at various girls' schools, which brought favorable credit on the school, and the Andover-Exeter concert, held at Exeter, was worthy of much praise and commendation.

On returning after a short spring vacation, the baseball team was found hard at work in spite of the stormy weather which predominated. Warmer days, however, soon appeared; the track team trained hard, and everything went along smoothly until May 30th. On this day we went down before our rival's excellent team by the score: 58 to 37. On the team for 1912 were Tilton, captain-elect, Bell, Mahan, Lahr, and Rosener.

Captain Reilly and Mr. O'Brien were very successful in producing an extraordinary baseball team which won all the preliminary games except two. On June 3rd, confident of victory, the team journeyed up to Exeter. On this day, however, fortune smiled on our rivals who were the victors in a hard-fought game by the score: 2 to 1. Mahan and Wardwell supported 1912 on the team.

The sting of the defeats so recently experienced was soon wiped out by the thought of college examinations which were near at hand. When these were over, we departed from the dear old hill so well loved, with our hearts filled with the aspirations which our senior year full of worthier worlds yet to be conquered, promised us.

A. L. Wells, '12

Senior Pear

APPY to be back at school again, anxious to renew old acquaintances and to make new ones, yet truly sorry to think that this was to be its final year in Phillips Academy, the class of 1912 returned to Andover last September. We were justly proud of our class and every old man desired to make our senior year the best in the history of the school.

Our first thoughts were turned to the football prospects, and the new system of preliminary class games which was to be inaugurated. The class games were a success, and when the Varsity squad was selected, early in October, the outlook for defeating Exeter was very good. Andover was victorious in two out of the three preliminary games played. We met Exeter on November 11th, and Andover's representatives gave a remarkable exhibition of the knowledge and spirit of football, which resulted in a score of 23 to 5 in favor of the Blue, our seventh successive victory over our rivals in football. Mahan, Brann, Enwright, Sheldon, Shelton, Roberts, Malcolm, and Manager Warner represented 1912 on the team.

The soccer team also had a good season, having won the majority of the games played. On the team were Bickford, Holmes, Lawrason, Chutter, Wells, and Manager Elkin from our class. Just before Thanksgiving a cross-country race was held, Harvard Fresh, Cornell Fresh, Dartmouth Fresh, Pennsylvania Fresh, Worcester Academy, and Andover being represented. Andover won by a good margin. Captain Ladd, Black, and Platt represented 1912.

Before we departed for our Christmas vacation, the new swimming pool was opened and after the vacation a team was organized. On this team the senior class had Captain Fullerton, Howe, Lynch, Loeb, Levy, and Manager Johnson.

The winter has been an excellent one for hockey. The schedule was long, and Andover won about half the games, a splendid showing considering the strength of some of the opposing teams. Captain Middlebrook, Malcom, W. H. Smith, Donner, and Manager Bell represented 1912. Hockey numerals were won by the Seniors. The basketball prospect, at the outset, was rather discouraging, but after a few defeats, the team rounded into shape, and concluded by defeating Yale Fresh for the first time in three years. Washburn, Roberts, Bickford, and Hequembourg of 1912 were on the team, as well as Manager Black.

The monotony of the winter term was broken by a most delightful "Prom," given by the Middlers to the class of 1912. This successful affair will not be soon forgotten by those who attended, for it was one of the most enjoyable "Proms" in the history of the school.

The musical clubs were busy throughout the winter, and on March 16th held a dual concert with Exeter. Although many men were barred from the clubs by conditions, the final concert was a great success. The Seniors on the Glee Club were: Williams (leader) Bickford, Carleton, Goodlett, Gurley, Holmes, La Tour, Mead, Rosener, Shepard, and Washburn; on the Mandolin Club: Hill, Proctor, Manning, H. F. Smith, Stebbins, Higgins, and Stover; on the Banjo Club: Manning (leader), Darling, Campbell, Owen, Powell, Selden, Hill, H. F. Smith, and Sturtevant.

The track squad has been working hard all winter on the board track and in the gym, and, judging from the results of the class meets held in the winter term, the chances of a victory over Exeter in track are very good. Tilton of 1912 leads the team, while Brann is holding up the business end. The baseball squad has been picked from the various class teams, and under the guidance of Captain Mahan and Coach Stearns, promises to develop into a team which will defeat Exeter.

The year is drawing to a close, and there is regret in the heart of every one of us to think that our days in Andover are nearly over. May every man of the class of 1912 leave the old school with the true Andover spirit, and may everyone endeavor to make himself worthy of being called an "Andover Man."

W. M. Bowden

HEN the class of 1912 first came into existence four years ago, and began its long, hard pull through the "prep." year, it consoled itself for its humble beginning by gathering strength and preparing for its many successes in the years to come. The only representative of the class in literary activities that year was Kenneth Douglas, who was a member of the Phillipian Board.

The next year was much more promising and brought forth an abundance of good material. As Junior Middlers, 1912 did not exert a great influence in the school, but the class was gaining rapidly in strength that was to spring into stronger power in the next two years. The following men from the class were elected to the Phillipian during the year: H. H. Nute, R. Hay, and W. H. Smith. R. Newcomb and R. Hay were on the Mirror Board, while F. W. Smith represented 1912 as a Means Prize Speaker.

From the impetus given in the preceding year, the class sprang immediately into prominence, and the number of 1912 men connected with the various literary organizations increased in a surprising manner. J. Brady and D. Shepardson were Philo-Forum debaters. 1912 had three out of the four men on the school debating team — F. W. Smith, J. M. McHatton, and D. Shepardson. R. H. Lucas, J. M. McHatton, and G. D. Buckwell were elected associate editors, and W. H. Smith assistant managing editor, of the Phillipian. The assistant managers of the Pot-Pourri were H. H. Nute and J. F. Dryden. The Mirror was managed wholly by 1912 men, a fact that is extremely rare for a middle class. R. Hay was managing editor and R. Newcomb business manager; the men from the class on the board were B. C. Cook, J. F. Dryden, C. F. LaTour, and H. R. Kaufmann. The four 1912 men who were Means Prize Speakers were J. M. McHatton, F. W. Smith, G. W. Washburn, and D. Kirkpatrick.

The final year is now nearly over, and 1912 is at the height of her literary glory, with a record of which we may well be proud, for the work accomplished in the four years has been of a high standard, equal in every respect to that of former classes and, we sincerely believe, a little better.

During the last year the Phillipian has been managed by W. H. Smith; and the senior editors on the board were: F. K. Douglas, H. H. Nute, R. H. Lucas, J. M. McHatton, G. D. Buckwell, and D. Elkin. The managing editor of the Mirror was J. M. McHatton, and the business manager was C. F. LaTour; the senior board was composed of R. Kaufmann, T. Enwright, H. L. Buck, and R. Newcomb. The Philo-Forum debaters from the class were J. W. Cooke, Beach, Gulliver. H. H. Nute and W. E. Higgins are managing the Pot-Pourri, with F. J. Manning and C. M. Hall as artists.

Athletics

HEN our class entered Andover in the fall of 1908, we were determined to set up a new athletic standard which would be much much admired by our upper-classmen, and which our future under-classmen would try to equal. With this in view, we were elated by our first victory over Exeter by a 12-0 score. Great credit is due Coach Lillard, Trainer "Sid" Peet and Captain Coates for this. We were represented by "Pete" Fletcher.

We had no representatives on either the basketball or hockey teams, but each had a very successful season. As spring came into our midst, our men were hard at work at track and baseball. Captain Hopwood's team defeated Exeter by a 49-47 score, "Ab" Tilton representing 1912. We now had great hopes of three victories and, with this in mind, we journeyed to Exeter for the baseball game. First, our hopes were disappointed by Exeter's goddess of victory, "Rain," and next by a 5 to 3 defeat. L. Burdett was captain. 1912 had no representatives.

The year was entirely satisfactory, and our class felt quite important, having two representatives on two victorious teams. So with more determination in mind, we returned the next fall and witnessed another victory over Exeter by a 3 to 0 score. "Fred" Large was captain, and 1912 was represented by "Dud" Rogers and "Van" Van Brocklin. Our track team was less fortunate as we were defeated by Exeter by a 54 1-6 to 41 5-6 score. "Seth" Eames was captain, and 1912 was represented by "Don" MacMurray, "Ab" Tilton, and "Ed" Rosener. With the sting of defeat in our ears, we trounced Exeter in an eleven-inning baseball game. "Hap" Burdett was captain, 1912 having no representatives on this team.

1912 was now rising rapidly into fame, and again we witnessed a stinging defeat in our football game by a 21 to 0 score. We were represented by Captain Rogers, "Diddie" Sawyer, "Bob" Harlow, "Charlie" Lahr, "Ned" Mahan, "Red" Brann, "Swede" Webster, Forsyth, and "Ben" Hay.

During the winter, 1912 became more interested in minor sports, and on Captain Rogers' hockey team we had as representatives, Captain Rogers, "Swede" Webster, Forsyth, "Don" Warner, and Middlebrook. In basketball we had Captain "Ben" Hay, "Red" Brann, and "Bus" Washburn.

Now Exeter came to the front once more and defeated Captain Martin's track team by a 58 to 37 score. 1912's representatives were Captain-elect "Ab" Tilton, "Charlie" Lahr, "Ned" Mahan, "Ed" Rosener, and Ladd. This defeat made our baseball team under Captain John Reilly more determined and we went to Exeter with great hopes of a victory. Once again it rained, and so Andover had to lose by a 2 to 1 score. Our representatives on the team were Captain-elect "Ned" Mahan, Manager "Ken" Douglas, and Wardwell.

Now our class has returned to Andover for its final year, and has more determination than ever. We all journeyed to Exeter and saw Captain Van Brocklin's team administer a 23 to 5 defeat over Exeter. 1912 was represented by "Ned" Mahan, Murray Shelton, "Bull" Roberts, "Red" Brann, "Chubby" Sheldon, "Tommy" Enwright, and "D" Malcom.

Our hockey team went through a very successful season under Captain Middlebrook; Manager Bell, "Bob" Donner, Ocumpaugh, "D" Malcom, "Win" Smith, "Bob" Blum, and Murchie representing 1912. The basketball team fought an uphill fight, and finally became very successful under Captain "Jimmy" Dillon. 1912 members were "Bus" Washburn, "Bull" Roberts, and "Max" Bickford. With such capable men as Captain "Ned" Mahan and Manager

With such capable men as Captain "Ned" Mahan and Manager "Vit" Stone at the head of baseball, and Captain "Ab" Tilton and Manager "Red" Brann at the head of track, the whole school anticipates two more victories and a very successful finale for our class for the year of 1912. With this splendid previous record, 1912 can retire from Andover with a record, beyond doubt, far surpassing that of any other class, and one that every class will try to equal.

Musicals

Musicals

HE Musical Clubs of the school usually tend to be rather less appreciated than other more prominent interests. Outside of the one concert given each year in Andover, and the daily Chapel notices, the school as a body knows little of the activities of these organizations. Nevertheless, the members of the activities of these organizations. Nevertheless, the members of the clubs are working continually through the first two terms, and deriving much pleasure and valuable experience.

This experience is a feature which is apt to escape the notice of many. The value of making a college musical club is easily perceptible; the long trips taken by many of these clubs being an additional incentive to their attractiveness. The fact that many of the Andover men who have entered college have succeeded in making these "Varsity" clubs is a good example of the benefit to be gained from the Andover clubs. Indeed, within the last year both Yale and Harvard have chosen Andover men as leaders.

In addition to this profitable experience, the members of the clubs have an opportunity for pleasure during the long winter term unequalled by any other school organization. The season this year has been very successful, and has come well up to past standards. Three concerts were given: Rogers Hall, Bradford, and the Andover-Exeter combined.

The first trip took place the 27th of January, at the Rogers Hall School in Lowell. The clubs were greatly hampered by conditions, but managed to make a creditable showing. After the programme had been given, a reception and dance followed, in which the fellows were entertained in a manner which could not be surpassed. The mention of this school can scarcely fail to recall to any member of the clubs a night not to be forgotten.

The second concert was given at Bradford Academy on March 2nd. The clubs were enabled to make a much better showing in this concert than at Rogers Hall, as many more fellows were present. The frigidity of the weather was by no means noticeable in the reception given; the memory of which cannot help being most pleasant to every fellow fortunate enough to have taken the trip.

The season ended with the fifth annual Andover-Exeter combined concert, March 16th. The Exeter men arrived about four o'clock, and were entertained by the members of the Andover clubs. The concert was given in the Andover town hall, and was well attended. The rendering of the program by both schools as a whole was most successful, being fully equal to any of the four annual concerts preceding.

Debating

HE first members of the Class of 1912 entered Phillips Academy at a moment when interest in debating was just commencing the slow process of recuperation after a decided decline in interest. It may be truly said that from the day when first our class became identified with the Academy, this interest has shown a slow but healthy growth until at the present time the two literary societies, Philomathean and Forum, are in a flourishing condition, approaching in some measure the ideals of the good old days of the past. The members of the class of 1912 have borne no little share in bringing about this happy condition. Many there are in its membership who have upheld the honor of their society upon the debating platform, and it is doubtful if any one class has ever had as many of its members on Andover debating teams. Others, too, of its members have well played a helpful part, although their names do not appear publicly. In point of membership and representation on the school teams, Philo has profited more than her sister society, but Forum has had a loyal band of enthusiastic workers whose efforts have brought her victory in two of the four inter-society debates held while the class has been in school.

1912 did not signalize its entrance into the debating life of the Academy in any unusual way. The first year some of its members became affiliated with the debating organizations, but none represented his society in a public contest. That year, 1908, Forum was awarded the decision over Philo in the annual debate. In 1909, the class was represented by Sheldon Jackson Brady, who was a member of the Forum team which lost to Philo after an interesting debate. The next year the class had two representatives in the Philo-Forum debate. On Forum's team was Sheldon Jackson Brady; on Philo's, Douglas Auld Shepardson. In this contest Philo was victorious. This year, after a closely contested debate, Forum was successful. She now has twelve victories to Philo's eight. Harold Strong Gulliver on the winning team, and John Wicks Cooke and David Nelson Beach, Jr., on Philo's worthily represented the class of 1912.

Since 1906, Andover has annually held a debate with Exeter. Although each year a good team has represented her, in all but one year she has lost. Last year, in John Morier McHatton and Douglas Auld Shepardson, our class had its first members on an Andover debating team. The debate was held at Andover, and after a spirited contest, Exeter proved herself the superior. John Wieks Cooke, Harold Strong Gulliver, and David Nelson Beach, Jr., have this year been chosen to represent Andover in this contest. All these are members of 1912, and we all hope that at last the tide of battle will turn in favor of Andover and that the class may crown her worthy achievements in debating with a victory over our respected rival.

As to the future of debating at Andover, no one can say. Viewed from the present, the outlook is bright. The news that next year we shall have a faculty member, who will devote his efforts towards fostering the art of public speaking and argumentation, is hopeful news. To the classes that follow 1912, we can only say, "Do your part as we have done ours, and all will be well."

HE Society of Inquiry has just completed one of the most successful year's work within the past decade. The aggressive and constructive work which it has done has been made possible by the thorough and enthusiastic manner in which the chairmen of the different committees have planned and carried on their duties. The problem this year has not been how to interest the student body in supporting the efforts of Inquiry, but how to find and to give opportunities for service to the large number (180 members) who wished to do some practical work.

The attendance at the Sunday Evening Meetings has been almost double that of recent years. The aggregate number for the first twenty-six meetings during this year is 2004, making an average attendance of seventy-seven students. The committee in charge of these meetings succeeded in arranging for a number of exceptionally interesting and strong speakers. Among them were Dr. Nehemiah Boynton of Brooklyn, Hon. Jacob A. Riis of New York, Robert E. Speer of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, Principal A. E. Stearns, Prof. Charles A. Forbes, and D. A. Crawford.

The Boys' Club work in Lawrence has been well managed and cared for. Three students have each spent one night every week in leading gymnasium classes and in organizing outdoor sports. This, however, is only a minor part of the work done in the Boys' Club. The efforts made, in indirect and direct ways, in teaching the street boys fair-play, respect for others, and clean habits have shown some interesting and definite results.

Nine Bible and discussion groups were conducted during the winter term. The total enrollment was 179. The average attendance was 96. It is interesting to note that 77 students attended over 60 per cent of the sessions. Members of the Faculty acted as leaders of these groups, and it is the time and effort which they generously put into the preparation of their topics for discussion and study that helped to make the work worth while.

The work of teaching English to foreigners has been carried on in Lawrence as last year. The student body with its financial support has made it possible to maintain the rented quarters for the night school. Early in the year the classes were seriously handicapped by the death of Mr. Clough, the director of the institute. His energetic and progressive spirit had brought the work up to a high standard of efficiency and the loss of his capable supervision was felt by the school as well as by the foreigners in the classes. The chairman of the committee, however, did splendid and faithful service in helping the interest and promoting the work. On four nights every week four different students spent an hour teaching English in these classes. Since the close of the long labor strike the number desiring instruction has been more than could be conveniently managed. This work is still in its infancy, but is growing rapidly. The value of the time and money spent in helping to Americanize some of the 80,000 foreigners in that city is beyond question.

In carefully looking back over the past year's work, it can be honestly said that the Society of Inquiry has done some telling and effective work and has made itself more of a factor in the welfare of the school than it has been in recent years. Although it has attained not a little success this year, yet in comparison with the good it can accomplish and the part it ought to have and can have in the student life here in Andover, this year's success seems small. The efforts, however, have been worth while, have been constructive and aggressive, and have been steps in the right direction to make the Society influential in maintaining and extending a strong moral sentiment, and in building up Christian character.

Andover at Porthfield

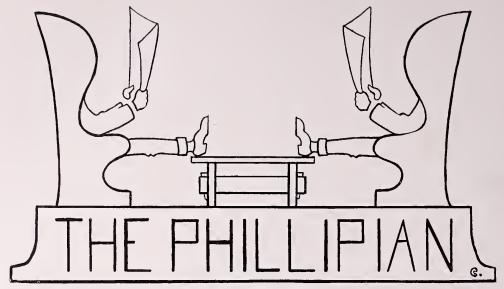

HE Young Men's Christian Association of eastern colleges and preparatory schools is represented annually at a religious conference in Northfield, Mass. Here all the problems of association work are discussed and a fund of knowledge on such topics as membership, social service, and Bible study is worked up which is an invaluable aid to each association in its work of the following year. A second feature of the conference is the presentation by capable speakers of broad experience of the motives which should guide one in making the decisions in questions which confront every school and college man. The sound uplifting thought occasioned by these discussions and addresses, combined with the wholesome recreation to which the afternoons are given over, makes the life at the Conference a most pleasing and fine type, one which is an inspiration and help to everyone who attends.

The large good resulting from the Conference has led to greater endeavor to increase the Andover representation. Last year the delegation numbered thirteen which surpassed any previous number. It is a significant fact that much of the work in Inquiry this year has been carried on by men who were delegates to Northfield.

Mr. Fuess (in English). "Yes, I think we can pretty safely say that 'pretty' should not be used as an adverb."

The most unkindest cut of all.

"Say, Nute, how much will it cost not to be mentioned in the Pot-Pourri as the class doll?" W. E. Higgins

C. M. Sheldon (first day in school). "Say, I bet I can lick you."

Mr. Graham. "Tell the physical properties of oxygen."

"PETE" KELLY.

Mr. Graham. "Well, how can you tell oxygen from a bulldog?" Kelly. "Well, oxygen has no odor."

Mr. Graham. "Bickford, how do you make oxygen?"

Bickford. "Take some manganese dioxide and potassium chlorate, and heat it in a test tube."

Mr. Graham. "That's too small; try something larger." BICKFORD. "Take two test tubes."

Rose (just back from New York). "Gee! Money sure does go some in New York. I wasn't down there three hours when bang goes a nickel."

So thin he doesn't know whether he's got a back ache or a stomach ache.

Boutelle

Too lazy to sit down when he's standing up. Bill Sheldon

Mr. Leonard. "Can anyone point out a word which has different meanings in different parts of the country?"

Morey. "A schooner up here means some kind of a boat, but down where I come from it means something else."

Mr. Stackpole. "What kind of rifles did David use in his wars, Winchester or Remingtons?"

Vandegrift (waking up). "Remingtons."

The loud laugh bespeaks the vacant mind.

THE GURLEY-AD

(With apologies to Homer)

Sing, O Muse, of the Forrest Poole whose brink Was semi-circled by a Morse-y Cliff, Near by whose strand in solitary silence
Did sit the Young and Noble Hunter, Dorr!
Nye to the Beach upon an Emery Stone
Was he, then dreaming of his Darling Hussey.
The rising moon was sailing o'er the sky,
All cloudless and belight with golden stars—
Mirrored in, and reflected back to Heaven
From this Black Forrest Poole beside the Cliff.
Relate the time when Rose-of-the-Sun-rise, maid,
And lovely daughter azure-eyed, the child
Of Ingram the "Padu from the realms of Wrink,"
Her lover met, the Good youth, Lord of Dorr!
And he sat singing winged words of love:

(Air: "By the Saskachewan")

"Let, O Sun, set
Out in the West-ern sea!
Stars bright, Light stars bring my love to me.
Rise, Silver moon, and cast your beams that she May come, canoeing down the Shawsheen's Lee,
From the banks of the Styx
For a girl to stay with me
By the strand of the rippling Shawsheen."

As when soft breezes waft at eventide Over the Hill and glen and woodland glade, And Russel-ing thro' the groves of leafy boughs In playful puffs, and cause the woods to murmur; Just so the Huutress azure-eyed stole forth And, drawing near Light-Lee, sat close to him. About his neck she twined her slender arms And breathed into the Lowe Loeb of his ear, Making him feel at heart a trifle Wrigley.

Now Armour, Cupid's Bowman blessed, who Ames
Each of his love-darts true, the Young Lord struck
With his Good weapon; passion seated deep
Quickly arose within the Hunter's breast.
As these Tew sat on the Small Space of Stone.
They neither saw the Pike within the Poole
Nor heard the Crohu (crowin') of the Dickey-bird, E'en tho' he could Crow(w)ells for lost were they,
Thus passing 'twixt themselves Whitworth the hearing,
In sweet bliss. And warm was the summer night
With its fresh breezes from the West.

As when the happy bird's at even's close Beneath the plum'd wings lay their Heads in sleep, And all is still; even so did these Tew sit. The maiden on his shoulder laid her Head Of golden hair, and in his fond embrace Lay silent. Now from Venus' favorite flowers, The tupils, as the Hussey coaxed him on, He often tried to pick a Dewey bud. But every time withdrew she from his grasp: In rippling laughter like a Silver Bell To mock his each endeavor she essayed.

The dreams they dreamed upon the strand that night Came true. The Ritche Prince dwells in Castle Halls Protected from the Winter's Suow and Frost.

High on a Hill within the Sutherland
Far off — the Castle stands supreme and Large.

Upon the lofty Tower's turret high,

Outlined against the golden throwned West,

The happy lovers' profiles slowly fade;

Then quickly vanish like a fleeting dream.

Since now, O muse, thy tuneful notes are ceased, Retire then; here ends thy Story decorous.

I was called "The Fortune Hunter," so living up to my reputation I chanced to be strolling around that dismal country called "East Lvnn" when I beheld from my lofty stand the "Little Boy Blue" seated in front of the cave of "The Enchantress". He raised "The Siren" to his lips and blew long and loudly. Soon I saw "The Pink Lady" walking slowly across "The Garden of Allah". When she saw the boy she said, "'Excuse Me', but have you seen the 'Neverhomes'"; The little boy answered, "Yes, he had seen them going 'Over the River' this morning." But where do they live? asked the fair one. In that house over there which they "Bought and Paid for" since "Get Rich Ouick Wallingford", "The Country Boy" lent them the money. Besides "The First Lady in the Land" lives with them and I must not forget "The Quaker Girl" who had as lovers "The Three Romeos". With this the little boy closed. But when asked "The Price" for the information he exclaimed in accents wild, as he dove for the entrance to the cave, "'I do not Charge' 'Passers By'".

Alumnus. "Who are some of the athletes in school now?" Gregory and Theobald (in chorus). "Theobald and Gregory."

ALPHABETICAL CELEBRITIES

- A 's for a start on the highroad to fame; Cub Atterbury gives us his freshly grown name.
- B is for Benson, so merry and young; Like a Bell he has nought in his head but a tongue.
- C is for Crispell—we need not repeat
 When one is so markedly souring conceited.
- D stands for Darling—and something besides, Which another bright planet so kindly provides.
- E is for Elkin or yet Tommy Enwright;
 No, we haven't forgotten that Tommikins can write.
- F is for Fullerton, beautifully clad—
 When you get in that water we'll look at you, Brad.
- G ee is a swear-word, so do not get fooled; Please save in your hearts, boys, a place for Jim Gould.
- H is for Hampton or Heely or Hay, Which quite takes my breath away wholly to say.
- I is for Irwin I fear he's no ass,—
 Though some say Abe Tilton's the clown of the class!
- j is for Johnson, so pious and prudent, Who never was taken for ought but—a student.
- though I doubt if the wisest could guess him, ls the signal for Kneen may Dame Fortune bless him!
- L 's for the buxom, beloved Fat Levy;
 Who ever has seen a young angel so - -?
- M is Mahan—Professors, we pray
 We may never lose him as we once lost a 'Lay!

- N is for no one—unless it be Nute; With a Horn and a lle(a)rold, oh who could be mute?
- o 's what you say when you want to be knowin';
 If you do not believe this, consult Knight Owen.
- P is quite possibly meant for Norm Platt, Who circles the cinders four times in 4 flat (?).
- Q is a sticker and always has been; And here we's obliged to that quiet boy, Quinn.
- R (when in German)'s a fearful blood-curdler, But at least we've got Rosener, the springhtly young hurdler.
- s is for Small of lady-like feature—
 In truth for good Timothy, the cute little creature!
- T if we left in the lurch Abe Tilton, He'd probably leave us in May rather wiltin'.
- you are missing! now wouldn't that jar you;
 It's probably silent for Euphony (are you!)
- 's for the brilliant but vagrant Sam Vail; In knightly adventures who's known him to fail?
- w near ends the torments that trouble you; Warner and Wells make a very fair W.
- x is a Jonah and plague on the whale of it!
 1 confess that I really can't make head or tail of it.
- Y I wouldn't be classed for the world as a mocker, But Young has been starring in —"Hysterical Soccer."
- Z is a sound we must all see is wheezy; And of course, as for names, why it's simply too EZ!

We're little devils now, but we're going to be worse.

Mr. Fuess. "Where was Shakespeare buried?"
